The part before the handoff

Seven illustrated beats for a roughly 60-second film. These are composition studies, not seven finished animated scenes. The 14-second passage develops beats 1–2. Financial wording is pending primary-source review; no amounts or tax winner are shown.

01 · 0–5s · Start the story too late

The owner sees a dividend and personal tax. Stop before contact; the company is outside this close-up.

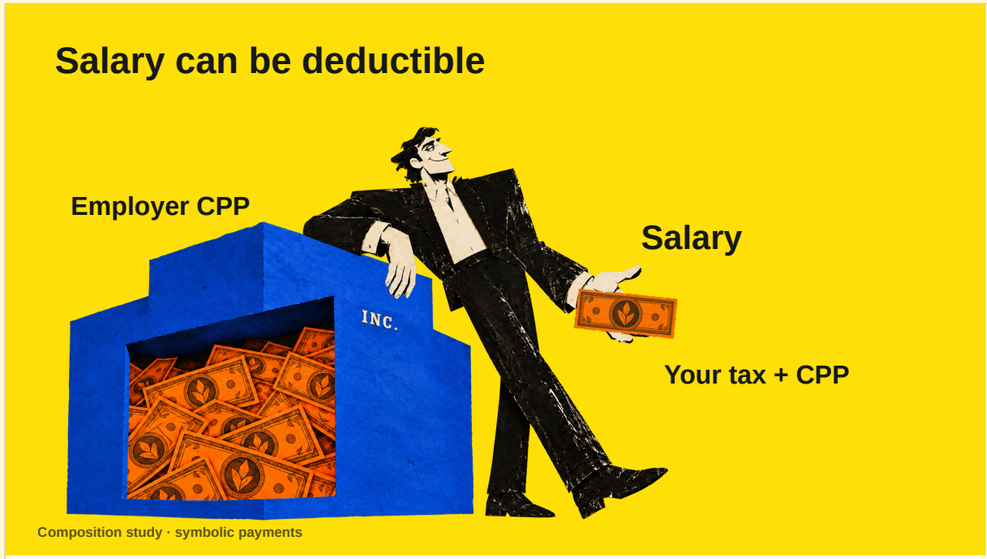

02 · 5–18s · Reveal the missing event

Go back. Company tax leaves before the dividend handoff is replayed. The same scene now carries more context.

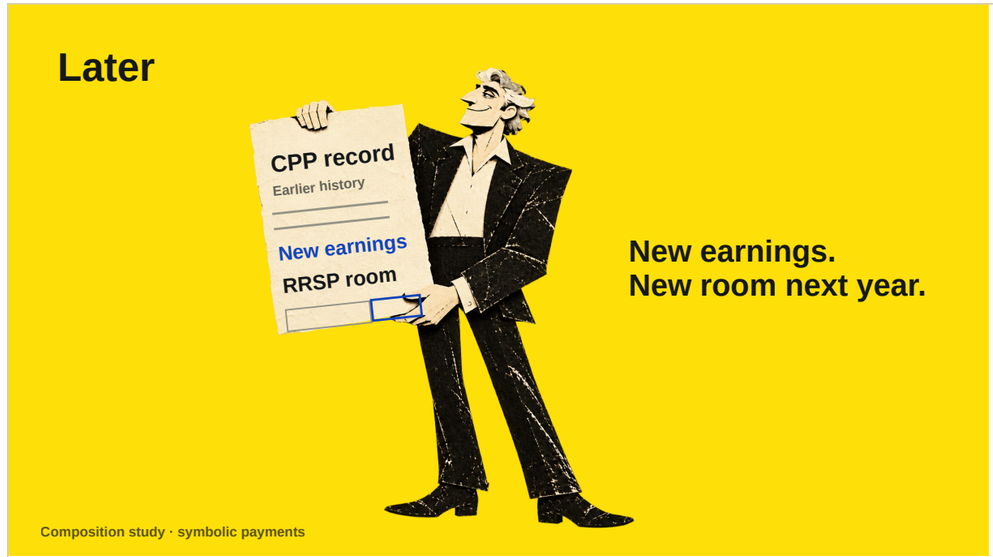

03 · 18–26s · Reset the comparison

Return to the same starting company cost. Replay alternatives; do not imply the owner receives both payments.

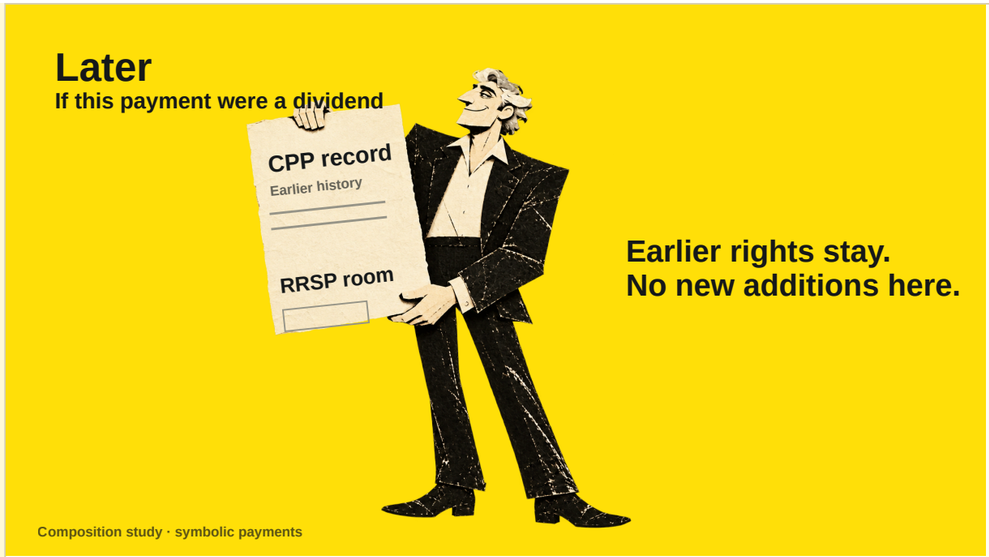

04 · 26–36s · Follow salary through both parties

Show applicable employer costs and the owner’s tax/contributions together. A deduction is not cash refunded.

05 · 36–45s · Reach the later consequences

Add a CPP earnings entry and possible RRSP room for next year. Keep earlier history and existing room present.

06 · 45–54s · Change the choice, retain the past

In the dividend alternative, earlier rights remain. Only the new salary-specific additions are absent.

07 · 54–60s · Leave the whole chain in mind

Return to the company and owner with a quiet later record. Final scope/disclaimer is designed with the completed film.
